

THE DAILY BEE.

E. ROSEWATER, EDITOR.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

OUR CORRESPONDENTS will be pleased to receive from all sources connected with news, country politics, and to any subject whatsoever, of general interest to our readers.

THE BEE'S OFFICE, in full, must be in each case accompanied by a communication of what nature it is. This is not intended for publication, but for our own satisfaction and as proof of good faith.

ADVERTISEMENTS of candidates for office—whether by mail or otherwise, and whether by circulars or by other means, are made simply personal, and will be charged for as advertisements.

WE do not desire contributions of a literary or poetical character, and we will not undertake to publish or return the same in any case whatever. Our staff is sufficiently large to meet the ordinary requirements of the office.

ALL communications should be addressed to E. ROSEWATER, Editor.

"The Legislature shall pass laws to correct abuses and prevent unjust discrimination and violation in all charges of express, telegraph and railroad companies in this state and enforce such laws by adequate penalties to the extent, if necessary, for the purpose of enforcing their property and franchises." [See 7, Art. 12, Nebraska Constitution, enacted June 13.]

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT: JAMES A. GARFIELD, of Ohio.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT: CHESTER A. ARTHUR, of New York.

JOHN F. REDDICK'S political card has been cut too short in the tails and too low in the neck to conceal his most prominent characteristics.

DEPARTURES from Constantinople announces that orders have been given for the immediate repair of the fort at the entrance of the Black Sea and Bosphorus.

The Republican's howl, because the central committee is determined to permit all Republicans to vote at the primaries, shows who is the factional and bolter.

The immigration during the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1889, is reported at 437,243, an increase of 278,417 over the preceding year.

ANOTHER attempt at reconciliation is to be made this week by the Tammany and anti-Tammany democrats in New York state.

The Empire state draws bright predictions of victory from the thorough organization of the republicans and the fighting factions of the democracy.

RELIEF is rapidly hastening to the imprisoned British garrison in Canada. General Stewart is already at Delahed, fifty miles from Cabul.

The relieving forces will reach the beleaguered garrison, unless delayed, about the 1st of September.

In the meantime Ayoub Khan is bombarding the city. The great danger apprehended is that the supply of water will fall short in which case surrender is inevitable.

INDICATIONS continue that the south has entered upon a well organized conspiracy to falsify the census returns.

In South Carolina the returns are abnormally large in some backward sections, showing an increase of 74 per cent. during the last decade.

Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana, are in no manner behind South Carolina. Ballot box stuffing and ballot-box tampering are bad enough, but census manipulation will do more to make a solid north than anything else at the present time.

and to convince all honest men that the south is ready to make any sacrifice of principle to obtain the return of government.

WE hear very little, now, of the demagogic cry of "economy and reform" so vigorously "reformed" during the last campaign.

The "reform" from democracy would mean the extension of a tariff from the 15th to the 20th, the ballot-box stuffing and ballot-box tampering of the southern statesmen and the naturalization statutes of New York politicians.

So we are likely to hear very little of this hypocritical and threadbare slogan. The economy war cry is not being sounded as loudly as it was four ago.

The congressional record of the democracy is by no means a flattering exhibit. The annual appropriations made by the bourgeois congress for the present fiscal year and the two years preceding aggregate $486,000,000, an average of $162,000,000 a year.

The same appropriations made by republican congresses for the fiscal years of 1873, 1874 and 1875 aggregated $424,000,000 or an average of $141,000,000 a year.

Democratic economy has shown itself in creating a deficiency by cutting down appropriations for needed objects, such as the coast defense and the preservation of the harbor, and throwing away twice the amount thus saved, by liberal appropriations for the benefit of constituents throughout the south in the improvement of Salt Creek and Mill River.

The river and harbor grant has averaged nine million dollars a year under democratic legislation, and the very localities which needed help in internal improvements have been most slighted.

The evidences of popular approval throughout the state, of the course of the central committee in their endeavors to purify the primaries of Douglas clones, is unmistakable.

The best journals of the state are outspoken in favor of a thorough reform in the primaries. Honest republicans who have not the fear of

WALKS IN WILBER.

Where Six Years Ago Was Naught But Tall Grass.

But Has Since Loomed Up into the Second Town in Saline County.

Saline a Second Douglas County in Political Muddles.

Correspondence of the Bee.

WILBER, Saline Co., Neb., August 10.

Six years ago your correspondent stepped off the cars in deep grass and saw a lively lane man, with measuring tape in hand and speculation in his eye.

It was Prof. Wilber, and the spot was Wilber in prospect. Since then Wilber has loomed up into the second town in the county and has become the county seat.

A fine court house has been erected on a commanding eminence at a cost of $18,000. A large union school costing $7000, also, and many handsome residences. The places much to the go-ahead man, among whom are Harvey, Clark, Henry, Hastings, and McIntyre.

One of the best flouring mills in the county is owned here by Mann & Harvey.

Wilber is situated in the rich valley of the Elae river. The valley is a broad level plain all under cultivation; the river bordered with timber, winds through the center.

On each side of the plain the land rises into high rolling prairie.

BOHEMIANS.

This choice tract of country, also the neighboring valley, is watered by Turkey and Swan creeks. The very garden of Saline county is settled and owned principally by emigrants from Bohemia, of whom there are about 1000 in the county.

The Bohemians are industrious and frugal, of course good workers. They are largely republican in politics, and are fast assimilating with Americans by intermarriage and mutual interest.

Many offices are held by Bohemians. A. V. Hiaman was county treasurer many years; Cook Duras is now treasurer, giving excellent satisfaction, and Shabata has been an acceptable county commissioner for a long time. They cast about 700 votes.

TURKEY CREEK.

In making Wilber from Crete I took in Pleasant Hill and Brush Creek precincts, and some of the finest farms I had yet seen in the county, especially along Turkey creek. The soil is as rich as a garden and was set aside at the earliest day on account of timber and water. Grass is comparatively light, but the cattle are fat as tallow.

Corn will be a great crop in spite of the loss of very much that was planted early. The late rainy weather, though exceedingly valuable, are too late for backward corn.

WILBER POLITICS.

This county seat is a second Omaha for political muddles and family misunderstandings. There is a general expectation over Senator Paddock's visit next Saturday evening.

When, in the opinion of the gentlemen, we shall elect a speaker of the assembly, this latter was the last aside speech thrown in by Mr. Dawes on a late occasion, as the object was not apparent on the surface, and Mr. Dawes is believed to be secretly opposed to Paddock. People are crying that bait before swallowing it. They did not know they were opposed to Paddock. That's where the laugh came in.

There is a very strong anti-Dawes element in this precinct, which is largely based on the fact that it is claimed to be the coming county convention, while at the same time increasing those of Crete, which hold Mr. Dawes' interests. The trick, intentional or not, is this: While the appointment of delegates to the state convention was based on the votes received by Judge Cobb, the portion to the county convention was based upon the votes received by Mr. Dawes as county commissioner.

Dr. M. J. For local reasons, he received more votes in certain localities than Cobb and less than Cobb in certain others. For instance, he got a large vote in Crete, but a small vote in the county seat, and less in Wilber for the same reason. So that the convention will be called on account of Mr. Dawes' votes, while on the other hand, Mr. Dawes would have but fourteen and Wilber nine. Thus, the division of the vote might occur, it would make a difference of five votes against Wilber, and the same for Crete; a very trifling difference; and when brought about by a cunning move on the part of the party to promote bitter feeling and a disposition to revolt. A protest is being made in the convention, and it is hoped the matter may be adjusted on a right basis. The simple fact is, all such tricky deals lie in the end; a setting day is sure to occur, and the matter will be settled.

Many other matters of a similar kind have wrought a great change toward Mr. Dawes since 1876, and it is very doubtful today whether he could carry his own county on the republican ticket. Nearly all the republicans of Wilber, excepting the postmaster and the chairman of the precinct committee, are opposed to the man and his measures. The county convention, which meets in Wilber on the 28th, will have a happy time. Several difficulties are to be bridged over. Mr. Wells wants the senate, and the Crete delegates are pledged for him. Mr. Whitcomb wants it also, but his honest intentions are not thought of by scheming and hints. He is afraid to oppose Wells, and hints the work of Whitcomb and others, to see Mr. Dawes now and then, and disapprove his most faithful ally of Friendsville.

Marshalls town is also going to have a creamery. The streams in the central part are very low.

A board of trade is to be organized and a brewery is to be built at Carroll by Clinton parties.

A 30,000 bushel elevator is to be put up at Sheldon.

The Dubuque Lined Oil company has been permanently organized.

The normal institute of Vinton, now in progress, has 100 enrolled members.

The Iowa City glucose works are to be more than doubled in capacity.

Vinton's new cannery establishment is one of the largest of its kind anywhere.

Prarie chicken shooting is all the rage in the western sections of the state.

In Kosuth county wheat will average eighteen bushels per acre and in

The Catholic clergy of Iowa average

WALKS IN WILBER.

Where Six Years Ago Was Naught But Tall Grass.

But Has Since Loomed Up into the Second Town in Saline County.

Saline a Second Douglas County in Political Muddles.

Correspondence of the Bee.

WILBER, Saline Co., Neb., August 10.

Six years ago your correspondent stepped off the cars in deep grass and saw a lively lane man, with measuring tape in hand and speculation in his eye.

It was Prof. Wilber, and the spot was Wilber in prospect. Since then Wilber has loomed up into the second town in the county and has become the county seat.

A fine court house has been erected on a commanding eminence at a cost of $18,000. A large union school costing $7000, also, and many handsome residences. The places much to the go-ahead man, among whom are Harvey, Clark, Henry, Hastings, and McIntyre.

One of the best flouring mills in the county is owned here by Mann & Harvey.

Wilber is situated in the rich valley of the Elae river. The valley is a broad level plain all under cultivation; the river bordered with timber, winds through the center.

On each side of the plain the land rises into high rolling prairie.

BOHEMIANS.

This choice tract of country, also the neighboring valley, is watered by Turkey and Swan creeks. The very garden of Saline county is settled and owned principally by emigrants from Bohemia, of whom there are about 1000 in the county.

The Bohemians are industrious and frugal, of course good workers. They are largely republican in politics, and are fast assimilating with Americans by intermarriage and mutual interest.

Many offices are held by Bohemians. A. V. Hiaman was county treasurer many years; Cook Duras is now treasurer, giving excellent satisfaction, and Shabata has been an acceptable county commissioner for a long time. They cast about 700 votes.

TURKEY CREEK.

In making Wilber from Crete I took in Pleasant Hill and Brush Creek precincts, and some of the finest farms I had yet seen in the county, especially along Turkey creek. The soil is as rich as a garden and was set aside at the earliest day on account of timber and water. Grass is comparatively light, but the cattle are fat as tallow.

Corn will be a great crop in spite of the loss of very much that was planted early. The late rainy weather, though exceedingly valuable, are too late for backward corn.

WILBER POLITICS.

This county seat is a second Omaha for political muddles and family misunderstandings. There is a general expectation over Senator Paddock's visit next Saturday evening.

When, in the opinion of the gentlemen, we shall elect a speaker of the assembly, this latter was the last aside speech thrown in by Mr. Dawes on a late occasion, as the object was not apparent on the surface, and Mr. Dawes is believed to be secretly opposed to Paddock. People are crying that bait before swallowing it. They did not know they were opposed to Paddock. That's where the laugh came in.

There is a very strong anti-Dawes element in this precinct, which is largely based on the fact that it is claimed to be the coming county convention, while at the same time increasing those of Crete, which hold Mr. Dawes' interests. The trick, intentional or not, is this: While the appointment of delegates to the state convention was based on the votes received by Judge Cobb, the portion to the county convention was based upon the votes received by Mr. Dawes as county commissioner.

Dr. M. J. For local reasons, he received more votes in certain localities than Cobb and less than Cobb in certain others. For instance, he got a large vote in Crete, but a small vote in the county seat, and less in Wilber for the same reason. So that the convention will be called on account of Mr. Dawes' votes, while on the other hand, Mr. Dawes would have but fourteen and Wilber nine. Thus, the division of the vote might occur, it would make a difference of five votes against Wilber, and the same for Crete; a very trifling difference; and when brought about by a cunning move on the part of the party to promote bitter feeling and a disposition to revolt. A protest is being made in the convention, and it is hoped the matter may be adjusted on a right basis. The simple fact is, all such tricky deals lie in the end; a setting day is sure to occur, and the matter will be settled.

Many other matters of a similar kind have wrought a great change toward Mr. Dawes since 1876, and it is very doubtful today whether he could carry his own county on the republican ticket. Nearly all the republicans of Wilber, excepting the postmaster and the chairman of the precinct committee, are opposed to the man and his measures. The county convention, which meets in Wilber on the 28th, will have a happy time. Several difficulties are to be bridged over. Mr. Wells wants the senate, and the Crete delegates are pledged for him. Mr. Whitcomb wants it also, but his honest intentions are not thought of by scheming and hints. He is afraid to oppose Wells, and hints the work of Whitcomb and others, to see Mr. Dawes now and then, and disapprove his most faithful ally of Friendsville.

Marshalls town is also going to have a creamery. The streams in the central part are very low.

A board of trade is to be organized and a brewery is to be built at Carroll by Clinton parties.

A 30,000 bushel elevator is to be put up at Sheldon.

The Dubuque Lined Oil company has been permanently organized.

The normal institute of Vinton, now in progress, has 100 enrolled members.

The Iowa City glucose works are to be more than doubled in capacity.

Vinton's new cannery establishment is one of the largest of its kind anywhere.

Prarie chicken shooting is all the rage in the western sections of the state.

In Kosuth county wheat will average eighteen bushels per acre and in

The Catholic clergy of Iowa average

WALKS IN WILBER.

Where Six Years Ago Was Naught But Tall Grass.

But Has Since Loomed Up into the Second Town in Saline County.

Saline a Second Douglas County in Political Muddles.

Correspondence of the Bee.

WILBER, Saline Co., Neb., August 10.

Six years ago your correspondent stepped off the cars in deep grass and saw a lively lane man, with measuring tape in hand and speculation in his eye.

It was Prof. Wilber, and the spot was Wilber in prospect. Since then Wilber has loomed up into the second town in the county and has become the county seat.

A fine court house has been erected on a commanding eminence at a cost of $18,000. A large union school costing $7000, also, and many handsome residences. The places much to the go-ahead man, among whom are Harvey, Clark, Henry, Hastings, and McIntyre.

One of the best flouring mills in the county is owned here by Mann & Harvey.

Wilber is situated in the rich valley of the Elae river. The valley is a broad level plain all under cultivation; the river bordered with timber, winds through the center.

On each side of the plain the land rises into high rolling prairie.

BOHEMIANS.

This choice tract of country, also the neighboring valley, is watered by Turkey and Swan creeks. The very garden of Saline county is settled and owned principally by emigrants from Bohemia, of whom there are about 1000 in the county.

The Bohemians are industrious and frugal, of course good workers. They are largely republican in politics, and are fast assimilating with Americans by intermarriage and mutual interest.

Many offices are held by Bohemians. A. V. Hiaman was county treasurer many years; Cook Duras is now treasurer, giving excellent satisfaction, and Shabata has been an acceptable county commissioner for a long time. They cast about 700 votes.

TURKEY CREEK.

In making Wilber from Crete I took in Pleasant Hill and Brush Creek precincts, and some of the finest farms I had yet seen in the county, especially along Turkey creek. The soil is as rich as a garden and was set aside at the earliest day on account of timber and water. Grass is comparatively light, but the cattle are fat as tallow.

Corn will be a great crop in spite of the loss of very much that was planted early. The late rainy weather, though exceedingly valuable, are too late for backward corn.

WILBER POLITICS.

This county seat is a second Omaha for political muddles and family misunderstandings. There is a general expectation over Senator Paddock's visit next Saturday evening.

When, in the opinion of the gentlemen, we shall elect a speaker of the assembly, this latter was the last aside speech thrown in by Mr. Dawes on a late occasion, as the object was not apparent on the surface, and Mr. Dawes is believed to be secretly opposed to Paddock. People are crying that bait before swallowing it. They did not know they were opposed to Paddock. That's where the laugh came in.

There is a very strong anti-Dawes element in this precinct, which is largely based on the fact that it is claimed to be the coming county convention, while at the same time increasing those of Crete, which hold Mr. Dawes' interests. The trick, intentional or not, is this: While the appointment of delegates to the state convention was based on the votes received by Judge Cobb, the portion to the county convention was based upon the votes received by Mr. Dawes as county commissioner.

Dr. M. J. For local reasons, he received more votes in certain localities than Cobb and less than Cobb in certain others. For instance, he got a large vote in Crete, but a small vote in the county seat, and less in Wilber for the same reason. So that the convention will be called on account of Mr. Dawes' votes, while on the other hand, Mr. Dawes would have but fourteen and Wilber nine. Thus, the division of the vote might occur, it would make a difference of five votes against Wilber, and the same for Crete; a very trifling difference; and when brought about by a cunning move on the part of the party to promote bitter feeling and a disposition to revolt. A protest is being made in the convention, and it is hoped the matter may be adjusted on a right basis. The simple fact is, all such tricky deals lie in the end; a setting day is sure to occur, and the matter will be settled.

Many other matters of a similar kind have wrought a great change toward Mr. Dawes since 1876, and it is very doubtful today whether he could carry his own county on the republican ticket. Nearly all the republicans of Wilber, excepting the postmaster and the chairman of the precinct committee, are opposed to the man and his measures. The county convention, which meets in Wilber on the 28th, will have a happy time. Several difficulties are to be bridged over. Mr. Wells wants the senate, and the Crete delegates are pledged for him. Mr. Whitcomb wants it also, but his honest intentions are not thought of by scheming and hints. He is afraid to oppose Wells, and hints the work of Whitcomb and others, to see Mr. Dawes now and then, and disapprove his most faithful ally of Friendsville.

Marshalls town is also going to have a creamery. The streams in the central part are very low.

A board of trade is to be organized and a brewery is to be built at Carroll by Clinton parties.

A 30,000 bushel elevator is to be put up at Sheldon.

The Dubuque Lined Oil company has been permanently organized.

The normal institute of Vinton, now in progress, has 100 enrolled members.

The Iowa City glucose works are to be more than doubled in capacity.

Vinton's new cannery establishment is one of the largest of its kind anywhere.

Prarie chicken shooting is all the rage in the western sections of the state.

In Kosuth county wheat will average eighteen bushels per acre and in

The Catholic clergy of Iowa average

WALKS IN WILBER.

Where Six Years Ago Was Naught But Tall Grass.

But Has Since Loomed Up into the Second Town in Saline County.

Saline a Second Douglas County in Political Muddles.

Correspondence of the Bee.

WILBER, Saline Co., Neb., August 10.

Six years ago your correspondent stepped off the cars in deep grass and saw a lively lane man, with measuring tape in hand and speculation in his eye.

It was Prof. Wilber, and the spot was Wilber in prospect. Since then Wilber has loomed up into the second town in the county and has become the county seat.

A fine court house has been erected on a commanding eminence at a cost of $18,000. A large union school costing $7000, also, and many handsome residences. The places much to the go-ahead man, among whom are Harvey, Clark, Henry, Hastings, and McIntyre.

One of the best flouring mills in the county is owned here by Mann & Harvey.

Wilber is situated in the rich valley of the Elae river. The valley is a broad level plain all under cultivation; the river bordered with timber, winds through the center.

On each side of the plain the land rises into high rolling prairie.

BOHEMIANS.

This choice tract of country, also the neighboring valley, is watered by Turkey and Swan creeks. The very garden of Saline county is settled and owned principally by emigrants from Bohemia, of whom there are about 1000 in the county.

The Bohemians are industrious and frugal, of course good workers. They are largely republican in politics, and are fast assimilating with Americans by intermarriage and mutual interest.

Many offices are held by Bohemians. A. V. Hiaman was county treasurer many years; Cook Duras is now treasurer, giving excellent satisfaction, and Shabata has been an acceptable county commissioner for a long time. They cast about 700 votes.

TURKEY CREEK.

In making Wilber from Crete I took in Pleasant Hill and Brush Creek precincts, and some of the finest farms I had yet seen in the county, especially along Turkey creek. The soil is as rich as a garden and was set aside at the earliest day on account of timber and water. Grass is comparatively light, but the cattle are fat as tallow.

Corn will be a great crop in spite of the loss of very much that was planted early. The late rainy weather, though exceedingly valuable, are too late for backward corn.

WILBER POLITICS.

This county seat is a second Omaha for political muddles and family misunderstandings. There is a general expectation over Senator Paddock's visit next Saturday evening.

When, in the opinion of the gentlemen, we shall elect a speaker of the assembly, this latter was the last aside speech thrown in by Mr. Dawes on a late occasion, as the object was not apparent on the surface, and Mr. Dawes is believed to be secretly opposed to Paddock. People are crying that bait before swallowing it. They did not know they were opposed to Paddock. That's where the laugh came in.

There is a very strong anti-Dawes element in this precinct, which is largely based on the fact that it is claimed to be the coming county convention, while at the same time increasing those of Crete, which hold Mr. Dawes' interests. The trick, intentional or not, is this: While the appointment of delegates to the state convention was based on the votes received by Judge Cobb, the portion to the county convention was based upon the votes received by Mr. Dawes as county commissioner.

Dr. M. J. For local reasons, he received more votes in certain localities than Cobb and less than Cobb in certain others. For instance, he got a large vote in Crete, but a small vote in the county seat, and less in Wilber for the same reason. So that the convention will be called on account of Mr. Dawes' votes, while on the other hand, Mr. Dawes would have but fourteen and Wilber nine. Thus, the division of the vote might occur, it would make a difference of five votes against Wilber, and the same for Crete; a very trifling difference; and when brought about by a cunning move on the part of the party to promote bitter feeling and a disposition to revolt. A protest is being made in the convention, and it is hoped the matter may be adjusted on a right basis. The simple fact is, all such tricky deals lie in the end; a setting day is sure to occur, and the matter will be settled.

Many other matters of a similar kind have wrought a great change toward Mr. Dawes since 1876, and it is very doubtful today whether he could carry his own county on the republican ticket. Nearly all the republicans of Wilber, excepting the postmaster and the chairman of the precinct committee, are opposed to the man and his measures. The county convention, which meets in Wilber on the 28th, will have a happy time. Several difficulties are to be bridged over. Mr. Wells wants the senate, and the Crete delegates are pledged for him. Mr. Whitcomb wants it also, but his honest intentions are not thought of by scheming and hints. He is afraid to oppose Wells, and hints the work of Whitcomb and others, to see Mr. Dawes now and then, and disapprove his most faithful ally of Friendsville.

Marshalls town is also going to have a creamery. The streams in the central part are very low.

A board of trade is to be organized and a brewery is to be built at Carroll by Clinton parties.

A 30,000 bushel elevator is to be put up at Sheldon.

The Dubuque Lined Oil company has been permanently organized.

The normal institute of Vinton, now in progress, has 100 enrolled members.

The Iowa City glucose works are to be more than doubled in capacity.

Vinton's new cannery establishment is one of the largest of its kind anywhere.

Prarie chicken shooting is all the rage in the western sections of the state.

In Kosuth county wheat will average eighteen bushels per acre and in

The Catholic clergy of Iowa average

WALKS IN WILBER.

Where Six Years Ago Was Naught But Tall Grass.

But Has Since Loomed Up into the Second Town in Saline County.

Saline a Second Douglas County in Political Muddles.

Correspondence of the Bee.

WILBER, Saline Co., Neb., August 10.

Six years ago your correspondent stepped off the cars in deep grass and saw a lively lane man, with measuring tape in hand and speculation in his eye.

It was